Dear Daixi,

This is Lauren (Carci) on Sonya Calloway-Durham's computer. Sonya and I were working on the Abrams discovery responses and my computer died. I immediately notified IT, and they are sending Lenovo out allegedly this week, but I'm not sure when they will be here. This is going to be a huge problem for me and our Section, as I am the only employee in the Criminal Division with access to ShareFile and Adobe Pro due to licensing and permission. I sincerely apologize for any delay finalizing the discovery responses but Sonya and I have to work together as a team to finalize the responses and we would greatly appreciate your understanding and work with us to extend the deadline to finalize the responses.

As soon as Lenovo has come out, I will send you an update so you are aware of where we are. I am also copying Sonya and Jamie so they are both available to respond to any questions.
